ABOUT THE INSTITUTE

GUJARAT LAW SOCIETY

Gujarat Law Society (GLS), established in 1927, is a pioneer educational institution in the state of Gujarat (India). It was founded by three eminent freedom fighters and legal luminaries Sardar Vallabhabhai Patel, Shri G.V. Mavlankar, and Shri I. M. Nanavati. Currently GLS is headed by Shri Sudhir Indravadan Nanavati, an eminent advocate of the country. GLS has grown from a single law college to 34 institutions ranging from preparatory schools to graduate and post-graduate colleges in diverse areas such as arts, commerce, law, management, computer applications and professional courses. More information about the society can be obtained from the website <http://www.gujaratlawsociety.org>

GLS Law College

GLS Law College, under the aegis of GLS, is offering integrated law programme at under graduate level. In the short span of five years, the institute has emerged as a premier institute in research, teaching and extension services in the area of law. In a recent survey, Chronicle magazine reported GLS Law College is amongst top ten best college of the country. More information about the college can be obtained from the website <http://www.glslaw.edu.in/>.

ABOUT THE SEMINAR

“Gender Equality: The Scale Never Gets Even!” is a national seminar committed to develop a critical perspective on gender and law. The seminar would focus on issues that would empower women, would build self esteem and thereby increasing the self-worth of the woman. An interesting panel discussion would open the new horizons of thinking above the gender. The seminar would witness many iconic speakers sharing their thoughts on very sensitive issues like existence of gender equality in India, the work place practices to eliminate inequality, nurturing the gender and going beyond the #Me Too Movement.

The seminar would aim at sensitizing the audiences towards the gender discrimination existing in the society. It would educate participants about various laws empowering women in the society. The seminar aims at making people aware of sharing the burden irrespective of gender.
